IS DECLARED INNOCENT OF MURDER

Mme. Caillaux, Slayer of Gaston Calmette, Acquitted by French Jury

FIERCE DENUNCIATION OF WOMAN CAUSED SCENE

Mme. Caillaux Fainted in Court; Semi-Riots Followed at Palace of Justice

PARIS, July 28.—Madame Henriette Caillaux, who killed Editor Gaston Calmette of Le Figaro, was acquitted tonight on a murder charge.

Fainted Under Denunciation
PARIS, July 28.—Madame Caillaux fainted again today during a denunciation by Attorney Chenu, representing the family of Editor Gaston Calmette, for whose killing she is on trial. She was carried from the courtroom amid a commotion among the spectators, and semi-riotous scenes outside the Palace of Justice.

"The defendant went into Le Figaro office with a single purpose," thundered Chenu. "The pistol she had purchased lay naked in her muff when she entered Calmette's office. She went there to kill him." It was at this point that Madame Caillaux collapsed.

CALMETTE WAS IN PAY OF HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, July 28.—The disclosure of the relations between Gaston Calmette, as editor of the Paris Figaro, and the present Hungarian government, made yesterday in the Caillaux trial in Paris, though advantageous to the defense of Mme. Henriette Caillaux in her trial for the killing of Calmette, was in fact a move in Hungarian party politics. Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the Hungarian radicals, said here last night on the eve of his departure for Hungary.

Count Karolyi confirmed his part in furnishing M. Caillaux with the papers which the latter presented in court in Paris.

"The letters," Count Karolyi said, "furnished proof that Calmette, of whom it had been sought to make a hero, was actually in the pay of the Hungarian government."

CRUSHED UNDER HEAVY BEET WAGON

Four-Year-Old Mexican Boy Met Death on Delhi Road Today

At about noon today a nine-year-old Mexican boy named Pedro Ontiveros was run over and instantly killed by a heavily loaded beet wagon.

The accident occurred on the Delhi road about one-half mile west of the race track. The boy was reaching for a pail of water from under the wagon unknown to the driver, who started the horses. The wheel ran over the boy's chest, crushing him to death.

MARRIAGES OF MINORS LACKING CONSENT, LEGAL

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 28.—The State Supreme Court held yesterday that if a boy and girl under legal age marry without their parents' consent, such marriage is legal and binding regardless of the fact that the license, upon which they married was illegally issued.

The court says that to hold otherwise would be against public policy, such act on the part of a couple not being such as to remove the responsibilities that they took upon themselves in the marriage vows.

REDLANDS ORANGE SHIPMENTS END IN 3 WEEKS

REDLANDS, July 28.—Orange shipments the past week from Redlands totaled sixty-nine cars, bringing the season's total to 4109 cars. The shipments will continue about three weeks, when all the local fruit will be shipped. Good prices are being received for all fruit now going out.

Ira N. Morris of Chicago for Minister to Sweden

Ira N. Morris of Chicago, a member of the family of packers, has been nominated by President Wilson for minister to Sweden. He is now on a special commission to Europe in connection with the Panama Exposition. Though Mr. Morris is a stockholder in the big packing company at Chicago he does not give his personal attention to its affairs. Senator James Hamilton Lewis presented his name. Mr. Morris was first suggested for ambassador to Italy, and later for ambassador to Russia.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A unique demonstration of neighborly feeling and regard was received today by Edward Gorman, 76. A resident in the same block for 54 years, Gorman was called upon today by many old friends, neighbors and business associates. He was in the audience when President Lincoln was assassinated in Ford's Theater.

Chartered for Cape Cod Canal Journey

BOSTON, July 28.—Chartered for a special trip through Cape Cod Canal, Rose Standish, Boston's excursion steamer, will be withdrawn from the Nantasket service today and will sail tonight for the cape. August Belmont has chartered the craft for a large party of guests, who will inspect the canal from Buzzards Bay and return.

Hungarian Stock Broker Mobbed in London

LONDON, July 28.—A Hungarian member of the stock exchange was mobbed on the floor just before the market closed yesterday afternoon. Members singing the Marseillaise pummeled him before the police could reach his side. He was rescued.

6000 Iron Workers Strike in New York City

BOVEE CHEMIST TESTS PAVING MATERIAL

Trustees Take Another Step to Insure Best of Paving

ALDERMAN NAMED TO TAKE SAMPLES

High School Chemist is to Do the Work for the City Trustees

Yesterday afternoon the city trustees took one more step toward bettering the pavement that is being laid on Santa Ana streets. The trustees have given the paving work the closest attention, and have overlooked no opportunities to better the specifications and to make arrangements to make certain that the concrete and asphalt is of the best and laid in such a manner as to make the best possible street for the money.

The step taken yesterday afternoon was the appointment of W. J. Bovee as city chemist. Bovee is teacher of chemistry in the Santa Ana High School and a thoroughly competent man.

Hitherto it has been the practice of the trustees to take samples of concrete and asphalt from time to time and have tests made of them to determine whether or not the articles were up to standard and specifications. Some of these tests have been made by Los Angeles experts and some recently by Bovee. It was found that in sending samples to Los Angeles two or three days would elapse between the time of taking the sample and the time of getting a report. For that reason remedial steps were always somewhat tardy.

It was then found that Bovee's tests were even more accurate and reliable than the Los Angeles tests, and that he had an equipment for handling the work. It was decided to allow him to make the tests, and by his appointment yesterday as city chemist his work becomes official. Bovee is to be paid for his services by the test, not by a salary.

To further facilitate the taking of samples and the safeguarding of the work, Trustee Alderman was appointed as a committee to have charge of the taking of samples for tests. Alderman can step on to a street at any time and take away samples for examination by Bovee.

A motion was carried ordering that no cement or asphalt will be accepted for use on the Santa Ana streets until a certificate has been submitted to the street inspector, showing the grade of the material.

CITRUS FREIGHT RATES TOO HIGH

I. C. C. Says Unreasonable Rates Also Exist From East to California on Imports

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today declared as unreasonable the freight rates of $1.15 per hundred pounds on lemons from California to Montana points, and of $1.66 per hundred pounds for citrus fruits going from California to Wyoming points.

The commission further ruled that a rate of $3 per hundred pounds on automobile axles from Detroit to Los Angeles is unreasonable, and also 85 cents per hundred pounds on hardwood shipments in carload lots from Cincinnati to the Pacific coast.

CHICAGO JUDGE RISKS HIS LIFE FOR OTHERS

CHICAGO, July 28.—Judge Thomas F. Scully of the municipal court stopped a runaway horse and probably saved many lives at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Croatian Catholic Church at Nineteenth and Throop streets. Several were injured.

Volumes Showing Doings of Congress Back to 1775 Are Here

WALTER EDEN GIVES PUBLIC THEIR USE

Librarian Highly Pleased With the Loan Made by Citizen

A notable loan has just been made to the Santa Ana Public Library by Deputy District Attorney Walter Eden. The loan consists of over 300 volumes of "American Archives," "Annals of Congress," "Congressional Globe" and "Congressional Record."

"The American Archives" volumes are the proceedings of the various states commencing with 1775, and are practically complete. In this collection are the stirring Revolutionary debates, at which the early history of this country as a nation was in the process of formation and being made.

"The Annals of Congress" are the records of Congress from 1839 to about 1855. They are complete excepting fifteen volumes. "The Congressional Globe" is complete from 1835 down to 1871, and "The Congressional Record" is complete from that date down to about fifteen years ago.

The original collection was made at Washington, D. C., by Eden's father, who was a congressman from Illinois for ten years, and was added to later. Walter Eden secured the collection upon the death of his father.

"I have loaned the books to the Public Library," said Eden today, "for the reason that I believed that they ought to be in some place, where they could be of larger use than they could be in a private library. They are of particular value to students and to persons investigating historical matters. I have found the debates in Congress on the tariff very interesting reading."

"I remember reading the debates in Congress upon the route to be adopted for the railroad to the Pacific coast. Many of the remarks made at that time concerning the development of the West seem almost like prophecy in the light of the development that has actually taken place."

Miss Jeanette McFadden, the librarian, is highly pleased with the loan, as it is one of considerable value as a reference resource.

"Many libraries a great deal larger than ours," said she, "are without records of Congress nearly as complete as the records loaned to our library by Mr. Eden."

Miss McFadden is having locked cases made for the books, which will be placed in the document room. Each volume will be stamped with a stamp showing that it is a loan from Mr. Eden.

SAN JACINTO APRICOT SEASON IS SUCCESSFUL

SAN JACINTO, July 28.—The apricot season has now closed in the San Jacinto Valley with a grand total of twenty cars of dried cuts ready for market. Most of the output came from the orchards on the Hemet tract and the Fruitvale district. Five cars have already been sold and shipped, but it is believed that what is now on hand will be held for a better market. Fruit men who are making a close study of the situation predict an 11 and 12-cent market before the winter is over.

PORTER CHARLTON CASE TO GO OVER TILL 1915

NAPLES, Italy, July 28.—It was announced yesterday that the trial of Porter Charlton, the American charged with the murder of his wife at Lake Como, in 1910, probably would be postponed until early next year, owing to the delay in taking testimony in the United States.

NO PROGRESS IN R. R. STRIKE SITUATION

CHICAGO, July 28.—No change was reported today in the threatened strike situation of the engine men and trainmen on the western railroads centering here. The representatives of 80,000 trainmen who have conferred with the managers of the roads, are still here. The mediators have failed to indicate the result of their pleading with the employees to accept arbitration. The report persisted today that unless an agreement is reached within 24 hours, the men will vote on a strike ultimatum.

AUSTRIA ISSUES REAL DECLARATION OF WAR

Ready for Conflict---Troops Massed on Servian Border---Warships Afloat --Firm in Rejecting Mediation

VIENNA, July 28.—Austria has formally declared war against Servia. The war declaration follows:

"The Royal Government of Servia, not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note remitted to it by Austria-Hungarian Minister at Belgrade, July 23, 1914, the Imperial and Royal Government finds itself compelled to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse for this purpose to force of arms. Austria-Hungary considers itself, therefore, from this moment in a state of war with Servia."

Hostilities Actually Begun

LONDON, July 28.—Austria formally declared war against Servia today, according to Vienna dispatches. The announcement followed Austria's refusal to suspend hostilities pending attempts at mediation. It is pointed out that while Austria rejected the mediation plan, the rejection does not preclude efforts to localize the strife. The Central News Agency dispatch from Berlin said Germany had officially decided not to participate in England's proposed mediation conference.

The Servian government today announced that the Austrians at Oradea had captured the Servian Danube steamer Delagrad.

A special dispatch from Venice to the Lokal Anzeiger in Berlin says the Austrian army has invaded Servia, according to the plan of campaign at Mitrovica, driving the Servian troops before them. Mitrovica is fifty miles northwest of Belgrade, in a direct line.

The censorship at St. Petersburg was doubled, following Austria's declaration of war. Many innocuous cables have been received, containing little actual news or reflection of the Russian attitude.

The British fleet today continued its mobilization at Portsmouth.

Austrians in Belgrade
An unconfirmed report received here says the Austrians occupied Belgrade, the deserted Servian capital, without resistance.

Servian Steamers Taken
The Servian Legation was informed today that the Austrians had captured two Servian steamers at Kocoevar.

Austria Refuses Mediation
VIENNA, July 28.—Austria's military measures and her present course cannot be interrupted pending negotiations toward mediation. This was Foreign Minister Count von Berchtold's reply today to the British suggestion that hostilities against Servia be suspended during the ambassadorial conference of England, Italy, France and Germany, with the object of preserving the peace of Europe. The Austrian note was courteous but firm in its refusal.

The official war declaration was forwarded to the Servian government at Nish, and a general troop movement toward the Servian frontier began.

Austria Fully Prepared
BERLIN, July 28.—Austria was fully prepared for quick work when she issued her declaration of war today. Troops were massed on the Servian frontier, warships were ready and transports were moving on the Danube. The first information here of the formal declaration of war came in a brief official announcement by telephone. It is reported here that Russia has ordered the mobilization of fourteen army corps. Unconfirmed rumors are afloat of the concentration of Russian troops on the frontier.

Military Activity in Berlin
Large bodies of troops in field uniform are marching in the streets of this city today. The officials said they were merely changing their quarters, but the public disbelieve this statement. Excitement is growing. The bank runs here and in Austria are increasing.

Several banks have closed their doors. The bank runs grew worse.

CONGRESS TO QUIT AUG. 28, SAYS SMOOT

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Congress will be adjourned by August 28 with the entire trust program cleaned up and the appropriation bill signed, was the declaration made today by Senator Smoot of Utah, following a Republican caucus at which members opposed further blocking of the Democratic program. Smoot urged the passage of the program, enforcing full responsibility of legislation on the Democrats. Senator Gallinger and many others urged a speedy adjournment of Congress.

RECORD EDITOR TRIED FOR LIBEL

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—The trial of George R. Young, editor of the Evening Record, on the charge of criminal libel, preferred by Police Judge Warren Williams, began today before Judge Wells of Covina, sitting for Judge Frederickson.

Williams' suit is based on an article in the Record alleging that he had employed Fred Andrews, a former inmate of the city's infirmary farm, on his ranch and had paid him insufficient wages. Earl Rogers, attorney for the defense, immediately protested the venire that was present, declaring Williams, as police judge, had aided in the drawing of the venire.

PROBATION ASKED FOR TRAIN ROBBER JAMES F. HOGUE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A motion for probation is on file in the superior court here in behalf of James F. Hogue, who held up and robbed passengers on a Southern Pacific train near here two months ago. Hogue asserted that he acted to get bread for his starving wife and four babies after he had failed to find employment.

PEACE NEARS TROUBLED MEXICO

Carranza and Carbajal Seem to Be Nearing Satisfactory Settlement

ZAPATA ALSO APPEARS COMING INTO THE FOLD

Believed Carranza Will Enter Mexico City About the Middle of August

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Secretary Bryan last night announced that the situation between the Carranza government and the Constitutionalists in Mexico was "progressing very satisfactorily toward a settlement."

The delegates appointed by Provisional President Carbajal left Mexico City today for Saltillo, where the peace conferences will take place, and there is every indication, according to the State Department advices, that an amicable arrangement will be made to hand over to the Constitutionalists the reins of government.

Advices from Southern Mexico stated that the envoys sent by Carranza to discuss the general situation in Mexico with emissaries of Zapata had had a long conference yesterday, which was in every respect satisfactory. Officials now expect that Zapata will cooperate with the Constitutionalists in maintaining peace in Mexico.

Word was received here last night that Fernando Iglesias Calderon, who is to be minister of foreign affairs in Carranza's cabinet, had met with an accident in New York and was suffering with a broken leg. He was to have proceeded to Carranza's headquarters, and would have been one of Carranza's delegates in the forthcoming conferences.

Members of the Constitutionalist junta in Washington said they interpreted Carbajal's appointment of the peace commission as meaning that the first chief probably would enter Mexico City before the middle of August. They predicted that the parley at Saltillo would not last long, and that the Carranza envoys would accede to Carranza's demands for an unconditional surrender.

FOUR MAY DIE AS EXPLOSION RESULT

12 Hurt in Pittsburg Sewer Explosion and Property Loss is $150,000

PITTSBURG, July 28.—Twelve workmen were injured, four of them probably fatally, when a sewer exploded today, ripping up a great section of the street. The damage is estimated at $150,000. The same sewer exploded last fall, injuring several men and causing quarter of a million dollars' damage. The sewer exploded today in several places, one of these being beneath the Carnegie steel plant. Six workmen were injured there.

BRIDE OF MONTH FOUND MURDERED AT SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, July 28.—Mrs. Julia Marino, aged 35, the wife of Francisco Marino, a gardener on the estate of King C. Gillette, the millionaire manufacturer, was found dead this morning, her head having been split with an axe, which lay at her side. She had been married a month. J. W. Ball, a negro, was detained pending an investigation. The woman was seen yesterday with Ball, a white man and a white woman. The police are searching for the husband.

GOOD ROADS IS STATE SCHOOLS CONVENTION TOPIC TO BE SAVED $2,500,000

Highway, Vancouver, B. C., to Mexico, Advocated at Tri-State Meet

MEDFORD, Ore., July 28.—The construction of a permanent highway from Vancouver, B. C., to the Mexican line, is advocated by the delegates to the Tri-State Good Roads Association's meeting which is in session here. The plan was proposed by President D. V. Saelzler of Redding, Cal., in his opening address. The plan met the instant approbation of the delegates. Letters urging hearty co-operation in good roads work were read from Governors Lister of Washington, West of Oregon, and Johnson of California.

Looks Like Business

is getting better, indications point to improved conditions this fall, though professional politicians will give us a great deal of confusing "dope," attempting to make some conditions appear better or worse than they really are, according to the interest or viewpoint of the politician; no doubt there will be plenty of reasons why caution should be observed in making investments, but Mr. "Common People" we must do something to make a living and a good piece of land well worked is just about as safe a bet as you can make, and surely now is as good a time to buy as you will find. We will soon be feeling the stimulating effect of the coming Panama Exposition, sellers will be more independent and prices advancing.

I will again call your attention to the localities west of Tempe and Paso Robles in San Luis Obispo county. They are highly favored localities. Keep them in mind, learn just what the conditions and advantages are. Next week I will tell you something worth while. Land in 40 acre tracts and up is worth $50 to $100 per acre. Land set to trees, one year old, can be had at $300 per acre, and this does not mean much to you unless you know what kind of trees and the general conditions.

Legal Fight Started in 1909 is Ended by Decision of Appellate Court

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—Two million dollars, perhaps $2,500,000, have been saved the state schools through a decision handed down yesterday in San Francisco by the Court of Appeals of the First District sustaining the contention of Surveyor General W. S. Kingsbury in the lien land suit brought by Fred W. Lake, affecting 500 claimants and 270,000 acres of California lands. The land will be sold at public auction and the proceeds will go to the schools of California. The last lands auction brought $9.05 per acre.

This case has been in the courts of the state since 1909, when Attorney General U. S. Webb and Kingsbury secured the passage of the Thompson lien land law.

In 1903 Lake caused to be filed with the surveyor general applications covering approximately 70,000 acres of lien land in national forest reserves, and then introduced a bill in the legislature authorizing the surveyor general to offer the 70,000 acres to the United States government in exchange for other lands. Kingsbury and Webb caused the defeat of this bill and then secured the passage of the Thompson law, which offered these lands at public auction.

Before the Thompson bill became law Lake presented to the surveyor general applications covering some 200,000 additional acres of the same class of land. Kingsbury refused to file these applications and later secured the passage of another bill authorizing him to cancel the applications on the first 70,000 acres, in his office.

Lake began suit in the Superior Court of San Francisco to compel Kingsbury to approve the applications for the 70,000 acres and to file the applications for the 200,000 acres.

The Appellate Court has now sustained the decision of the lower court against Lake, thus clearing the title on the 270,000 acres of land and permitting its sale at auction under the Thompson act.

TELLURIDE, COL., IS WASHED OFF MAP BY CLODBURST

TELLURIDE, Colo., July 28.—Practically all those missing as a result of the cloudburst last night have been accounted for. Two are known to be dead and many were hurt. The damage to property will be about $300,000. The water plant was crippled and a water famine is threatened.

Town Nearly Wiped Out
DENVER, Colo., July 28.—The little mining town of Telluride, Colo., famous the world over, was virtually wiped off the map yesterday as a result of a cloudburst in Corn Creek four miles above the main part of the city.

Two women are known to have been drowned and fifteen children were rescued after a wall of water from eight to twenty feet high had swept the city. That the loss of life was not heavier is considered almost marvelous. Corn Creek runs a precipitous course directly into the city. The cloudburst struck at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The news did not reach Denver until last night, as all wires were carried before the onrush of the mighty torrent.

Last night all Telluride's 4000 inhabitants were huddled in upper stories of houses on the side of the hills. Experts declare that property damage cannot be under $500,000. Not a residence or business house in the little city, except a few cottages scattered along the sides of the hills, remains whole.

FRANCESCO CARBAJAL, NEW PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Francisco Carbajal, a jurist of note in Mexico, who has heretofore been too wise to engage in politics there, finds himself all of a sudden president of the country. General Huerta named him foreign minister, and under the Mexican constitution, the foreign minister succeeds to the presidency in case of a vacancy. Huerta having resigned and fled, Carbajal is president. He may not remain such very long; he has little hope of continuing for more than a few weeks.

A 200-ACRE FARM IN MEXICO IS GOAL OF EACH MEXICAN REBEL

"We Will Get the Land," They Say---or Else the Revolution Will Not be At an End

(By United Press Staff Correspondent)

MATAMOROS, Mexico, July 28.—There are three hundred Constitutionalist soldiers in the barracks here, under Major T. Orozco, and every man of them expects to be the owner of 200 acres of Mexican land when the revolution is finished. Many, indeed, have already tentatively picked out the plots of ground they expect to farm.

Lieut. Jose d'Antin Zuboga of the Ninth Regiment, sucking his corn husk cigarette on a plaza bench before the hotel Montezuma, surrounded by a dozen or so of his comrades, privates, non coms and commissioned officers, so summed up the feeling of the men behind the guns of the Carranza-Villa forces in relation to the Mexican land problem.

"We will get the land," he said. He translated his statement into Mexican for the benefit of the men about him. They nodded emphatically.

"But if you don't?"
"Then the revolution won't be finished."

Jose Zuboga fought with Madero through his revolution. With Madero president he was given a position in the customs service at Laredo, but when the news of the assassination came he hurried to El Paso and joined Villa. He has been fighting ever since. As a lieutenant he draws three pesos per day from the Constitutionalist paymaster, and provides for his own keep.

A block off the Plaza Independencia on the Calle Manuel Gonzales are the Constitutionalist barracks. A half dozen typical Mexican houses, two stories high, built flush with the narrow walk on the narrow street, iron-barred windows and rickety balcony, provide quarters for the men and their women. A blue-shirted and khaki-trousered sentry slouches up and down the shady side of the street. In an open doorway a mixture of soldiers in khaki, women and a flock of babies are gathered. Out in the dust a young toddler of about eighteen months is bitterly contesting with a mangy dog for the possession of what appears to be a bowl of mush. It looks as though it were to be the dog's long deferred day, when an accurately thrown watermelon rind hurtles out of the doorway and strikes the cur in the ribs, whereupon he retreats snarling. The baby buries its dirty fist in he collects another ten centavo piece. Three months of barracks life has worn on Zuboga. A friend calls him from the doorway of the telegraph office and whispers to him excitedly. He comes back beaming. Orders have just come for the transfer of a number of officers to the south. He is off to headquarters to put in his request. With him go two American boys, one 20 and the other 23, to see if they cannot get into action likewise.

"Why did you enlist?" I asked one of them. He refused to give his name but said he came from near Dayton, Ohio.

"It's more fun than working in a glass factory," he answered. "Any time I want to leave I can quit. That's part of our bargain. As soon as I can talk Mexican they have promised to make me an officer. They pay me three pesos as it is. And then," he added, "you can't tell. This dope they hand you about that land distribution may be the goods. They all think so. And if it is I know a two hundred acre patch back here a ways that would raise the finest corn and alfalfa in the world. I'd like to get it."

FORD TOURING CAR IS GONE

J. E. Ward's Machine Was Stolen in Santa Ana
Last Night

Last night between 7:30 and 11 o'clock a Ford touring car belonging to J. E. Ward, who lives on Newport Road, was stolen from Spurgeon street near Clune's Theater.

The city marshal's office was informed, and telephone messages were sent out in all directions in the hope of locating the missing machine, but up until this afternoon no word was received even indicating in which direction the Ford was taken.

The machine was a 1913 model and its number was 30,826.

A PERFECT CATHARTIC

There is sure to be a wholesome action in every dose of Foley Cathartic Tablets. They cleanse with never a gripe writes: "I lately had occasion to use a liver medicine, and took Foley Cathartic Tablets. They thoroughly cleansed my system, and I felt like a new man—light and free." Chronic cases of constipation find them invaluable. Stout people are relieved of that bloated, congested feeling, so uncomfortable especially in hot weather. They keep your liver busy. Win-good's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

A CANDIDATE FOR CHIEF JUSTICE IS VISITING THE CITY

Judge W. M. Conley of Madera and His Son Are in Santa Ana Today

Judge William M. Conley of Madera is making a statewide campaign without using an automobile. Most of the state candidates who have been here came by auto and went by auto. The reason why Judge Conley is not traveling by auto is that he has none.

Judge Conley and his son were in Santa Ana today for a few hours shaking hands with friends and making new acquaintances. The judge is a candidate for chief justice of the supreme court.

Judge Conley is well known in Southern California. Last year he was designated by Governor Johnson to try the famous second trial of Clarence Darrow and so well did he satisfy both sides, that at the close of the nine weeks case, both the defense and the prosecution asked that he act as judge should the case be brought to trial a third time. Some time previous to the Darrow trial, Judge Conley presided at the Ford murder case and he has disposed of important civil litigation in the Los Angeles courts since then.

Although only 48 years of age, Judge Conley has a breadth of legal experience seldom attained by a jurist. He has served on the Superior bench continuously for twenty-one years, and has tried cases in more counties of California than any other superior judge.

When first elected to the Superior bench in Madera county, Judge Conley was only twenty-six years of age, but it did not take him long to gain a reputation on other grounds than that of youth. For the past fifteen years he has been designated by succeeding governors to try cases in all parts of California. During the past year he has tried cases in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Sacramento, Fresno, Merced, Kern and Riverside counties, besides attending to the full volume of judicial business in Madera. Judge Conley has the reputation of being one of the ablest trial judges in the west.

In accordance with the present primary law which provides that judicial officers shall run as non-partisans, Judge Conley will appear upon every ballot at the August election.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark,
Glossy, Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces the soft lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Advertisement.

SECOND BLOOM ON ORANGE TREES IS ALL THROUGH SOUTH

WHITTIER, July 28.—Citrus men are wondering what is the cause and what will be the effect of the unusually large second bloom that has come to the orange trees this year. Only during the past few days has the great amount of these off-bloom trees been noted here.

The condition exists all over the citrus areas of the southern part of the state, however, having been first noticed about three weeks ago in the groves farther interior, and developing later in the sections nearer the coast.

"In its native habitat the orange usually blooms twice a year," said Manager L. A. Brundige of the Whittier Citrus Association, "and here in California the navel trees sometimes develop a small second bloom, but this year the second bloom is not confined to navel trees, but is found extensively throughout Valencia groves also. Orange growers are at a loss to account for the phenomenon."

THE PLAYGROUND MOVEMENT

Up to a few years ago it never occurred to the older people that Young America needs a place in which to play. It was commonly supposed that a live boy would find plenty of amusement in selling newspapers, running errands or hoeing the back yard garden. If he must have his game of ball once in a while there was the street or some one's vacant lot.

As a matter of fact it often happens, even in the country town, that there is no place where a set of boys can play a game of ball without being ordered to quit. Probably there is such a town within your knowledge.

Most American towns were laid out with no provision for the children. There was ample foresight for anything in which money could be made. Railroads and factories never lacked opportunities. Land was often given to attract them. But the cases where land was given where young people could play their games freely, and work off superfluous and threatening energy, were rarely seen.

In the larger cities the modern playground, with a tangle of yelling kiddlets, is a sight to do a wholesome hearted person good. The boy who is chasing a baseball is not robbing orchards or melon patches nor standing on the street corner smoking cigarettes.

A playground entertaining a large crowd of children does not fully serve its mission unless carefully supervised by some competent person. The average boy gets altogether too much fun from tormenting some one under his size. Also the average crowd of twelve-year-olds is very far from ready for self-government.

But even if a neighborhood, village or town can merely open up a vacant lot and turn the youngsters loose the results are worth while. In that case the parents will occasionally have to intervene to make Young America "salute the flag."

THE FREEDOM OF TRAVEL

Any man who makes a study of the newspaper personal columns during the summer must feel that the American people are doing an enormous amount of travelling.

It is not merely that the millionaires are on the go, flitting hither and yon to kill ennui, anxious to be somewhere where they are not. Even the little country town shows that simple hearted people of very moderate means are visiting here and there and taking long journeys.

The type of person who used to stick closely at home year after year has almost disappeared. A generation ago it was common to see old timers who boasted that they had not slept outside their own houses for ten, twenty or thirty years. The inertia that settled over them was appalling. It seemed an unsettling and revolutionary effort for them to pack a little grip and go over to the next town to spend a week-end with a relative.

Of all the modern ways of spending money on things not strictly necessities travelling probably brings the largest returns of intelligence. Narrowness is a result of hearing only one point of view. The moment a fellow stirs around and gets into another state and another section he begins to see that his home folks are not the only guardians of wisdom. He learns that there are other points of view and some of them are good ones.

The benefits derived from travel differ greatly. Some people on their return can talk of little save of the food they got at the hotels and the comfort or discomfort provided by the railroads. To others every tree in the fields, every building, every person met, suggests subtle and interesting differences from the scenery, the manners and the customs of the home environment. Such persons also get a great many good business suggestions. The farmer finds an object lesson in every field and the merchant a selling idea in every street.

HUMAN NATURE IN CATS

"There is a good deal of human nature in cats," said our friend the Philosopher. "Take two kittens that have been brought up together. If they are sleepy they will curl up in the most amiable heap of fur you ever saw. But if you drop a piece of raw meat in front of their noses they will be spitting and growling at each other in a minute. They are perfectly friendly until they both want the same thing."

"Sometimes I think money is to some men what raw meat is to cats."

They are good citizens and they love their neighbors and wouldn't have anybody in want if they could help it, but they bristle and stick up their backs and spit and scratch if they smell money.

"My wife never gives her cats raw meat. She says it spoils their dispositions. I'd like to experiment along that line with some men I know."—San Francisco Bulletin.

NEWPORT STREET LIGHTING BONDS

Newport News: The bonds for the construction of a street lighting system which were voted on at a special election held Tuesday, carried easily, the vote being 147 for and 10 against. The polls opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m., which made a long day of it, but no effort was made to get a big vote out as it was a foregone conclusion that the bonds would carry. The election board consisted of David C. Winans, Judge; Frank J. Knight, Inspector, and Leopold Goeppert and Nelson T. Shaw, clerks. The votes were counted and the reports signed up within a half hour after the polls closed.

A PLEA FOR BETTER SERVICE ON THE PART OF NEWSPAPERS

(From an address by J. P. Baumgartner on "The Other Side of Honest Advertising," before the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri—Reprinted from a Bulletin issued by the University.)

WHEREVER newspaper men are gathered together mainly for purposes of mutual admiration, and incidentally for other purposes more serious and worthy, we hear a good deal about honest advertising. Honest advertising has become a sort of journalistic slogan. But the popular interpretation of that slogan is not, to my way of thinking, its most important conception. The onus is all, or for the most part, placed upon the advertiser. His advertisement must be honest—that is, true. He must tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about the goods, the stocks, the houses, and the lands he offers for sale. The utmost responsibility that is placed upon the newspaper is that it must see to it that the advertisements in its columns do not deceive.

Of course, it is a consummation devoutly to be wished, that advertisements should be truthful, and if not only an ethical duty but a good policy on the part of news. But the newspaper's duty and opportunity do not end there. If the newspaper does not render real efficient service, to both advertiser and reader, commensurate alike with the amount paid for its space and the field it occupies, it is going to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. There are entirely too many newspapers which do not render such service. Despite the ridiculously low prices at which most papers of this class sell their space it is not worth to the advertiser what it costs him. And he knows it. Either the newspaper's circulation is inadequate, or the advertising copy is worthless, or the set-up is bad, or the make-up and general quality of the paper are far short of what they should be. Any one of these defects might render an advertisement almost worthless, yet many of our papers are afflicted with more than one of them, and some papers are cursed with all of them.

On the other hand, many of the newspapers that have all possible excellencies, and have thus secured a practical monopoly of their respective fields, are overcharging their advertisers—charging them rates that yield the papers larger profits than they are justly entitled to receive, and that are, for the advertiser, almost more than the traffic will bear.

These are conditions that threaten the very foundation of the newspaper as a successful business enterprise. Of course, it is impossible to discuss them fully at this time and place. But newspaper men should ponder them in their hearts. Advertisers have been doing so for lo! these many moons, and there are breakers ahead for the newspapers unless they trim their sails just right.

Now, we are not greatly concerned about the few newspapers that are giving their advertisers the best possible service, and yet are charging them too much for it; we are mainly inter-

R. R. EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES SEEK TO AVERT BIG STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 28.—Railroad officials are preparing their final concessions and locomotive engineers and firemen their final demands in an effort to avert the much-feared strike on the ninety-eight western railroads. The representatives of both men are in secret sessions at the Congress Hotel.

AERIAL CRAFT WORKERS' UNION IS NOW PLANNED

LONDON, July 28.—Anticipating the use in the near future of aeroplanes as freight carriers, officials of the British Transport Workers' Federation are already planning the organization of a special aerial transport workers' union. Robert Williams, secretary of the federation, said today that the need of such a union will soon become obvious, inasmuch as the general employment of aeroplanes for this purpose will necessarily involve the displacement of many men engaged in land transport work.

THE VATICAN PLANS TO STUDY RACE SUICIDE

ROME, July 28.—The Vatican has just begun an extended investigation on what effect religion has on the present world-wide evil of race-suicide. Today statistics were made public on Holland, which since 1814 has had an ever increasing Catholic population. At the present time there are 920 Catholic schools in the kingdom with an attendance of 184,907 against 1000 Protestant schools with an attendance of 170,000 children. These are in addition to the 593,047 children attending the public schools. The birth rate statistics show that for the Catholic population there are 287 children per thousand adults; Protestant, 219 and Jewish 157.

WOMAN POSED AS MAN TO SECURE EMPLOYMENT

TOPEKA, Kan., July 28.—For six weeks Marie Patrick of Des Arc, Ark., posed in Kansas as a man. She wore men's clothing, and during harvest helped at cook shacks and did light work because, she announced, she was not strong enough to do a man's work. She was discovered when she tried to handle a hay fork, and is now being held by the county attorney.

UNION TEAMSTERS IN STOCKTON OUT OF WORK

STOCKTON, July 28.—Practically every union teamster in Stockton is idle as the result of the action taken by the Merchants, Manufacturers and Employers' Association, in accordance with its ultimatum issued July 8, that only non-union men would be employed by the members of the association.

Corporation and Income Taxes

(From the Los Angeles Financial News.)

In proportion to population the Sixth Internal Revenue Collection district of California, the district in which Los Angeles is situated, paid the largest amount of income and corporation tax in the country, according to Internal Revenue Collector Carter, the corporation tax amounting to $584,771 and the individual income tax to $282,455.

Taking the country as a whole the states of New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois paid more than half of the $71,386,146 turned into the national treasury in income and corporation taxes during the fiscal year just closed. A detailed statement of collections made public by the Treasury department showed that these three states contributed $57,931,717.

New York State also paid $12,223,247.03 in individual income tax, while the entire amount paid by individuals throughout the country was $28,306,356.69. The Empire State paid $9,766,248.57 of the $43,079,819.44 paid as corporation tax by all States.

Pennsylvania ranked second in both individual and corporation taxes. Its corporations paid $6,096,305.28, and its individual income tax collections amounts to $3,176,095.38. Illinois was third in the list with corporation taxes amounting to $4,293,649.69, and individual income assessments aggregating $2,076,171.11.

The Second New York Internal Revenue District, which includes the Wall street section of New York City, paid $13,839,998.43, in individual and corporation tax combine, or nearly one-fifth of the amount paid by all the rest of the United States. The individual income tax paid by the district amounted to $7,959,070.92, more than one-fourth of the total.

The official returns for the fiscal year ended June 30 are as follows:

Doings In Social and Club Circles

FOR MRS. SUTTON

Cousin of Mrs. Ella Fyfe Will Be One of Two Honor Guests at L. A. Reception

Of an honor to be given Mrs. Fred E. Sutton, cousin of Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe of this city, and who was a recent visitor at the Smith-Fyfe home here, where she was the guest at some pleasant social functions, the Los Angeles Examiner says today:

Mrs. Fred E. Sutton and Mrs. R. L. Craig will be given a reception tonight in Federation hall, 953 West Seventh street. Mrs. Sutton recently arrived in this city from Oklahoma City, as commissioner for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Henry M. Scales, former mayor of Oklahoma City, will preside at the reception and officers of the Oklahoma State Society are attempting to get all former residents of the state to attend the meeting.

According to Mrs. Sutton, the Oklahoma building at the fair will be worthy of the "youngest state in the Union." Mrs. Craig is a Los Angeles member of the Exposition Woman's Board.

Real Surprise Party

Mrs. C. A. Fowler was the recipient of a surprise party on Saturday afternoon, the affair taking place at the Fowler house in honor of the twenty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, the hostesses being the Ladies of the Maccabees. Birch Park was the meeting place for the Maccabee ladies and from there they went in a body to the Fowler house. The honoree was delightfully surprised, and the afternoon was passed most pleasantly. A pretty silver spoon, engraved with Mrs. Fowler's initials, was presented to her after delicious ice cream and cake had been served late in the afternoon. Mrs. O. B. Alderman made the presentation speech.

The ladies in the party were Meses. Elmer Curtis, Olive Lopez, M. Uhn, Claude Jasper, Laura Moyer, O. B. Alderman, Sarah Ostott, A. Fischer, May Parker, E. L. House, John Rudolph, D. W. Hicks, Dora Spangler.

Travel Lecture Tonight

Dr. Williamson, a noted lecturer and explorer, will give an evening of travel, illustrated with moving pictures, at the First Presbyterian church this evening, under the auspices and for the benefit of the local Y. M. C. A.

Among his other pictures will be shown views from all of our national parks, especially Yosemite. A very interesting program is promised and the public is especially urged to attend and give its support to the Y. M. C. A. A silver offering will be taken at the door.

SHE RE-READ PROPHECY ON VOTES OF WOMEN

Many years ago, when the Friday Morning Club was young, and women's clubs still a matter of joke, Mrs. James A. Osgood read a paper on Parliamentary Law, says the Los Angeles Examiner.

In it she urged that school children should be given at least two hours' drilling each week in this special line of study. And she made prophecy that "soon in California women would be voting; holding legislative positions; presiding over great deliberative bodies, and nothing will give such dignity and poise as a thorough knowledge of parliamentary law. It encourages the sense of justice, fair play and courtesy."

This prophecy, now a vision made real, was read again last Saturday by Mrs. Osgood, when she and her husband, Captain Osgood, entertained several well-known clubwomen with an all-fresco luncheon at their home under the oaks of Sierra Madre.

CONSERVATORY MUSICALE

Cool Studios Filled With the Friends of Pupils Who Gave Good Program

A number of the friends and patrons of the Conservatory assembled in the pleasantly cool studios yesterday afternoon to listen to and thoroughly enjoy the program which was given by some of the members of Mr. Fraser's class, assisted by Mr. Kenneth Gekeler, violinist.

Notwithstanding the fact that vacation days are here and that studies are interrupted by vacations and good times, the pupils all played exceedingly well, their numbers being given almost entirely without notes.

After the program an informal social time was enjoyed in the Japanese Court, and iced tea and wafers were served.

The program was as follows:

1. Waltz in C.....Scholl, Claire Sharpless
2. The Fair.....Garlitt, Lenora Phinney
3. Song Without Words, Mendelssohn.....Miss Beatty
4. Cavatina (violin).....Raff, Mr. Gekeler
5. Preludes—Nos. 7 and 20.....Chopin, Miss Harper
6. Piano Duet—Rhapsody-March.....Liszt, Miss Elson and Elba Elson
7. Frühlingsrauschen.....Sinding, Miss Murphy
8. Intermezzo (violin).....Mr. Gekeler
9. Duet—March from Faust.....Gounod, Miss Elson and Elba Elson
10. Grand March.....Wollenhaupt, Miss Harper

AMUSEMENTS

Quo Vadis at Clune's

Quo Vadis, that stupendous, magnificent and awe-inspiring photo drama in three acts, was shown to a packed house last evening at Clune's Theater. The picture is too magnificent to attempt to describe. Only by seeing it can a person judge of its excellence. The scenes are laid in Rome during the tyrannical reign of Nero, the last of the Caesar emperors. History, romance and tragedy are blended into one awe-inspiring ensemble. For scope, magnitude, extravagant splendor and liberality, this picture has never been equalled.

The story of Vinius' love for the lovely Christian maid Lygia, is related with remarkable fidelity and the companion picture of his friend Petronius' great passion for his handsome slave, Equit, is also beautifully and faithfully shown. Episodes that stir the mind to wonder, the gladiator combats, the chariot races, and especially the burning of Rome, are pictorialized with amazing truth. Nobody in Santa Ana should miss this picture. It is not only an entertaining production, but it is also instructive.

In addition to this picture a good vaudeville act is presented by the Mozars. To see them gliding about on snow shoes, and see the snow on trees and banks, and the little snow-fur Canadian snow-shoe costumes worn by the Mozars makes one forget the warm summer day and think winter is here. This act is in two scenes. Little Steinnie comes to Vinius in a vision and dances most gracefully. We heard one young man remark, "Gee, I never would wake up, if I could dream like that," and I don't blame him. But they, too, saved the best for the last, and that was the snow scene. Steinnie (Little Miss Snow Shoes), who appeared even more stunning in her Canadian costume, and the Snow-Shoe Dance.

Temple Theater. Last night was opening night at the Temple Theater for "John Barleycorn," Jack London's famous temperance story, told in pictures. It is a sketch of the famous author's life and portrays vividly the temptations that beset his boyhood and early manhood, showing how by degrees the liquor habit gained the mastery over the young man and later was overthrown by him.

The story told by Jack London of his struggles against the insidious growth of the liquor habit, would apply to the lives of many other boys in large cities. Woven in it are adventures, sea life, and dissipation, mingled with love and the struggle for an education. The pictures gripped the undivided attention of the audience, which filled the house. It is in itself a strong appeal for the cause of temperance, and at the same time is an entertainment of great merit. John Barleycorn will be repeated tonight and again tomorrow night at the Temple.

MRS. ASTOR TOO MUCH OF AN AMERICAN TO LIKE WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR, EXPATRIATE IN LONDON

Mrs. Waldorf Astor, daughter-in-law of William Waldorf Astor, who many years ago moved over to London, worth about $80,000,000 left by his fathers and grandfathers, has become so outspoken in her dislike for him that a far-reaching family row has resulted. Mrs. Astor was one of the Langhorne sisters of Virginia, and she believed in the United States, like most Virginians. When she came back several months ago she made that very plain. She said she was going to bring up her young son as an American.

It was evident that she could not be fully reconciled to her father-in-law, who did not want his son to wed her at all. But having social claim and many friends, she had a position in English society apart from that of the expatriated Astor family. Recently she made a remark about the elder Astor's money bags, a remark so sharp that it hurt the millionaire. The son, her husband, is said to have sided with her, and as a consequence Astor offered for sale two London newspapers which he purchased to boost his own political ambition.

Orange County Federation to be Hostess to Southern District of State Federation Woman's Clubs

The thirteenth annual district convention of the Southern District of C. F. W. C. will be held at Santa Ana, November 10 to 13. Mrs. A. J. Lawton, president of the Southern District, will go to San Diego on August 3rd to attend a state executive board meeting called by the state president, Mrs. Lillian Pray Palmer of San Diego.

On August 4th Mrs. Lawton will hold a district board meeting at the same place at which time plans will be made for the coming convention.

In the years past it has been the custom for the five southern counties comprising the district, San Diego, Imperial, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange, to alternate in entertaining the annual conventions. It has been assumed by Orange county, in the meantime the clubs have increased in numbers and membership until, at the present time, there are fifty clubs in the district with a membership of about 4000. When the convention of 1907 was held at Santa Ana the Elbell Society and the Woman's Club were hostesses. At the coming convention the Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs, comprising seventeen clubs, will be the hostess. With the co-operation of the seven or eight hundred club women in Orange county a most profitable and entertaining convention is assured.

Following are the officers of the executive board of the Southern District:

AT THE COURT HOUSE
CATTLE HAIR
WENT UP, SO
ASKS $4,000

Santa Ana Horse Collar Maker
Brings Action on Purchase
Agreement

Because cattle hair jumped from less than two cents a pound to six cents, the Powers Manufacturing Company of Santa Ana has brought suit for $4,000 damages against P. Higgins & Company of San Francisco. The basis of the action is an agreement in which the San Francisco dealer was to sell four or five carloads of short cattle hair to the Santa Ana firm, which uses the hair in the manufacture of horse collars.

The complaint, filed by Attorney R. J. Gardner of Los Angeles, states that in October, 1913, Higgins wrote a letter to F. L. Andrews, manager of the Powers Manufacturing Company, stating that the price of cattle hair was going up, and that two cents a pound would be charged Andrews for the Higgins output for the rest of the year. Andrews went to San Francisco and closed the deal on November 12. He was to receive between four and five carloads of 20,000 pounds each.

None of the hair arrived, and Andrews began writing and wiring, and in response on December 15 he got a letter from Higgins saying that a man named Lawrence had proven by a letter to him that Higgins had agreed to sell Lawrence his entire output. So Higgins was delivering to Lawrence.

Higgins said he had forgotten all about the Lawrence contract.

"I am sorry to have to disappoint you, but my memory is not good," wrote Higgins to Andrews.

Andrews went out to buy cattle hair and had to pay six cents a pound for it. He figures his damages at $4,000, and asks judgment for that amount.

Ask Appointment
Twenty residents of Los Alamitos have asked the supervisors to appoint

William Drake as constable of Los Alamitos township to succeed E. Rice, who has not qualified.

Attachment Cases
Notices of attachment have been recorded in two actions brought in Santa Ana. In one case the Orange County Title Company sues J. Robert Speed for $43.53 and in the other H. H. Hill sues T. W. Neely for $100.75. In each instance real estate is attached.

For Big Damages
Ah Thing has brought suit for $25,800 damages against the Huntington Beach Company. The complaint, filed today, states that on January 9 Ah Thing went to a huge pile of baled hay to get some that he had bought. He was with an agent of the company. The haystack fell over, and Ah Thing was badly hurt by the bales of hay that covered him. He was unconscious for two weeks, and suffered several broken bones.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT
Given a Floater
Anaheim Herald: The trial of Ruperto Saragosa was held this morning before Judge Howard. Saragosa was arrested some time ago on a charge of beating a child named Martinez. Saragosa had aroused the anger of the father of the child on account of having taken Martinez housekeeper during his absence.

On his preliminary trial he pleaded "not guilty," and was committed to jail at Santa Ana until his trial today. At nine o'clock the following jurors were on hand for the case: H. Hansen, M. Roy, Oliver Hill, D. Nagle, D. Lamont, H. S. Jayne, J. Fisher, J. F. Richard, F. M. Smith, W. S. McFarland, Sam Newnes, L. Hessel, J. Wittmer, B. V. Beebe, L. Bushard and J. H. Enearl.

Through some oversight the prisoner did not arrive until 10:30 o'clock. After a short consultation with his attorney, L. Reinhaus, of Santa Ana, a plea of "guilty" was made. The jury was dismissed and a sentence of six months in the county jail was made. This was suspended with the understanding that the prisoner was to leave this county and stay away. The case was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Koepsel.

TAYLOR'S NEW AUTO
TRUCK FOR BEACHES

—Mr. P. E. Taylor, proprietor of the Taylor stage lines to the beaches, announces that owing to his inability to handle the crowds coming home on Saturdays and Sundays, he has purchased a Federal motor truck, which he will equip to carry big loads. This truck will be run on Saturdays and Sundays only, commencing next Sunday, August 2. Mr. Taylor also states that next spring he intends to put on two new auto busses, such as are now in operation between Los Angeles and Venice.

GOOD BOXING SHOW
ON AT BEACH TOWN
WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Huntington Beach Athletic Club is to hold one of its popular smokers and boxing shows tomorrow night, the 28th. The shows which have been put on by this club have all been good and deserving of a larger crowd than they have had. For the smoker Wednesday night the admission fee has been reduced to fifty cents. A feature of this club's shows in the future will be that women will be invited and admitted free.

The main event is a six-round scheduled bout between Joe Gillis, who fought a six-round draw with White at the Santa Ana Athletic Club, and "Dummy" Jordan of Los Angeles.

Besides this main event there will be six four-round bouts between boys who are well known for their class. Frank Ocampo will meet Jim Martinez of Anaheim at 123 pounds; Oran Snodgrass will meet Red Matthews of Anaheim, who fought a four-round draw with Jimmy Arrausoy of Los Angeles; Chas. Heinrich of Anaheim will meet Laurent, a recent arrival in Santa Ana, at 145 pounds. This event promises to be very good.

In order to care for the people who want to make the trip, special car service is being arranged, and auto stages will leave for the beach town from the corner of French and Fourth streets.

PAUL WARBURG TO MEET COMMITTEE
IN PROBE SESSION

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Owen, chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, last night received a telegram from Paul M. Warburg of New York, indicating that he is willing to appear before the committee to answer "any reasonable questions."

"Mr. Warburg has been balancing the proposition in his mind," said Senator Owen. "As a matter of fact he would have to make a considerable sacrifice if he were to go on the board, and he would rather not go in to it if he is to be treated as a public enemy. He is not willing to be put in the attitude of a culprit, but he is ready to answer any reasonable questions."

Meanwhile President Wilson is casting about for a successor to Thomas D. Jones. One reason he is anxious to have Warburg give a final answer to the request that he appear before the committee is that he cannot name anyone until he knows whether Warburg will accept or not. If Warburg's name is withdrawn, it is understood a Republican will be appointed in his place, and a Democrat will be named in the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Jones.

NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK
By Carlton Ten Eyck

NEW YORK, July 27.—God may watch over a majority of the thousands of children in New York, but nobody else does. Not one boy in a thousand here knows how to play. To play is a crime.

There are 12,000 children arrested annually in New York. They are no different from other children—just the ordinary garden variety of boys and girls, but their first arrest is usually a punishment for attempting to play. These statements are not mere vapors. They are included in a report made by the People's Institute on "The City Where Crime is Play."

A boy in the congested districts of New York is looked upon as a prospective criminal from the time he is big enough to toddle out in the gutter, scrape up a little dust and water and make mud pies.

When he gets old enough to run and yelp and work off a little boyish energy he is a disturber of the peace.

Like any other boy he arrives at the age when he wants to play baseball or football, there being no place but the street in which to play he tries it there. He is arrested. He has broken the law. To him the law is something to crush him down, hold him in check, rather than a protection. Then comes defiance of the law; organization of gangs to devise ways and means of "beating the cop;" additional arrests, and New York produces its crop of gangsters.

Numerous instances are cited by the People's Institute report which go to show how the boy is soon arraigned in open defiance of the law. The case of one boy arrested for pitching pennies is mentioned. He was actually playing marbles near some boys who were pitching pennies, but they ran faster than he did. Another boy was arrested for playing ball, but the boys he was surely playing with were not mentioned in the complaint. Another boy was arrested for fighting, but the boy he was fighting with was not mentioned.

Street gambling is now hardly less common than baseball or other street games and as a matter of fact step by step the boy moves in his violation of the law until crime becomes play.

The People's Institute report declares:

"Gang stealing in many parts of New York has come to have a definite form of organization. A band of boys, from three to six or seven in number, will go from tenement to tenement on Saturday evenings, taking orders from housewives for fruits, groceries, light hardware and clothing, just as though they were delivery clerks. When they think they have a sufficient number of orders they go out on the street and by a series of organized raids secure the goods which the housewives have ordered. These goods are sold on a regularly established scale of prices, which in most parts of the city is arbitrary, with no relation to the market value of the stolen articles. After the boys get their money they retire to their "hang-out," where the money is divided into equal parts and the possessors shoot "craps" until one of them has it all. This boy divides the winnings into two parts, one of which he spends in treating the other members of the gang. The other half he is permitted to keep and spend for himself.

"This is a regularly organized form of amusement, which has existed in the middle West Side for a decade or more. The crimes committed are incidental to the game. These boys start out to seek adventure, excitement and a 'treat.' Unguided and irresponsible with a tradition of lawlessness based upon the hostile indifference of their elders, they have gone after their ends without regard for consequences, with the result that before their game is over they have obtained money under false pretenses, committed larceny and gambled; for any one of which acts they are criminally liable. Yet punishment for any one of these acts leaves the zest for adventure, the lust of gambling and the taste for sweets and cigarettes as strong as ever."

In addition to gang stealing, gang fights form a part of the traditional play life of the New York boy. Among the younger boys the fights are in a spirit of play. The theft and destruction of property connected with the fights is merely incidental in the eyes of the boys. The New York boy manifests through these fights the spirit of rivalry which other boys turn toward the baseball or football games. A census taken by the People's Institute last April showed 110,000 children at play in New York. They found thirty-nine constructive games being played by 55,000 children. 20,000 were participating as an audience. Wandering idle in the streets were 27,000 children. In the immediate neighborhood of these children were 30,000 adult loafers.

As a menace to the child of the tenement districts even in his street crime-play there is the kidnapper. The grand jury has been told that 150 children have been kidnapped within the past ten years. There have been only nine convictions. The "Kidnappers Trust" is said to have extorted $150,000 from parents of children who have disappeared. Ransoms ranging from $125 up to $250, $500 and even $2000—the highest that is known to have been paid—have been paid—have been collected. A crusade is now under way to break up this kidnapping gang.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To clean brass flower pots or trays, rub them with a piece of lemon; then pour boiling water over them, and finally polish with a soft dry cloth.

A sure way to prevent eggs from sticking to the pan or breaking is to add a spoonful of flour to the grease in which they are fried.

... ..

Turnips, carrots, darsnips and similar roots may be kept plump and fresh by being put into boxes filled with earth or sand and placed on the cellar floor.

... ..

Colored dresses of any sort should always be washed in water in which salt has been sprinkled and then hung out in the shade. Colored materials should never be hung in the sun.

... ..

Soften pitch, wheel grease or tar stains with lard and soak in turpentine.

... ..

Scrape off all the loose surface dirt with a knife, sponge clean with turpentine and rub gently until dry.

... ..

An uncomfortably tight shoe may be made perfectly easy by laying a cloth wet in hot water across where it pinches. Change several times. The leather will shape itself to the foot.

... ..

When making syrup from granulated sugar, melt the sugar before adding the water, stirring constantly to prevent burning. The syrup will be of a rich golden color and will not crystallize on the sides of the pitcher.

... ..

After the dustbin has been cleared, burn a couple of newspapers and, if available, a couple of handfuls of straw in it. This will remove all grease and damp and make the dustbin clean and sanitary.

... ..

Before baking potatoes, let them stand in hot water for fifteen minutes. They will require only half the time for baking, are more mealy and palatable, and if they are baked in a gas oven, the saving in gas is considerable.

A TERRIBLE THING TO BE BORN THAT-A-WAY

Have you ever read the poem about the unimpressive little girl who

"If told that a chair was a fast motor car
In which she must speed on a journey afar,
Would straightway declare that it couldn't be so,
'Tis a chair, she would say, 'not a car, as you know.'
'But imagine it's one,' they would plead in despair—
It was all to no purpose—a chair was a chair.
And her obstinate humor would break up the play.
It's a terrible thing to be born that-a-way."

TELLS USERS IN LETTER OF THE VICTORY

Secretary Seamans Says: "A Tremendous Burden Has Been Lifted"

YORBA LINDA, July 28.—C. H. Seamans, secretary of the Yorba Linda Water Users' Association, which was organized to carry on the fight of the Yorba Lindans for their water rights, has mailed out the following circular letter to all members of the association:

"Dear Sir: The great fight for justice in the water rights question has been heroically fought and won. The case was settled in Judge Thomas' Court in Santa Ana Monday morning, July 20th, at which time a meeting of over one hundred members of the association were present.

"The settlement comes in the form of a decree from the judge, the terms of which were formulated and agreed upon by the attorneys and the executive committee prior to the court session.

"The decree provides that the entire bond issue shall be cancelled; the stock now held by the promoters shall be issued to the contract holders; the present directors—Newmark, Stern, Frank, Edwin Janss and Harold Janss—shall resign and in their places will be elected, Emory Albertson, J. H. Barton, E. K. French, P. J. Stewart and George Parmanter. Thomas B. Welch and I. S. Beal, who were elected in January by the people, will remain on the board, thus making the entire seven directors selected from among the active members of the association. All of these provisions will be carried into effect at once within the next few days.

"The association accounts will be quickly closed up and each of the 3000 shares of the water company stock will be like its equal share of the entire litigation expense. In cases where refund is due the members of the association they will be advised as soon as the plans can be consummated.

"A tremendous burden has thus been lifted from us as a people and unquestionably the efforts of the association have been eminently effective in one of the greatest fights for justice.

"Under separate cover you will receive a copy of the Santa Ana Register giving a full and accurate account of the settlement. It is only fair to say in passing that while the members of the association have worked patiently, faithfully and mightily, they have been led to victory by the most skillful, conscientious and efficient attorneys in the personnel of Senator William J. Carr, Francis J. Heney, James R. Farrar, who conducted the entire suit, and his son, J. H. Farrar.

"It is equally as fair to say that we were highly favored in the privilege of bringing our claim before Judge W. H. Thomas, who has proved himself to be one of the most able, unbiased and honorable men in the American Court of Equity.

"Very truly yours,
"YORBA LINDA WATER USERS' ASSOCIATION.
"By C. H. SEAMANS, Secretary."

MAN IS CHARGED WITH A BURGLARY

Newport News: A man named Roy G. Elliott was arrested by City Marshal Porter Monday morning, charged with stealing a purse, a string of gold beads, a Mosaic pin and a gold watch from Mrs. Augustine Mastin at the Newport Hotel.

Elliott had been working as a solicitor, and in this manner gained access to Mrs. Mastin's room at the hotel, when the occupant was temporarily absent.

He was seen to come out hurriedly and go into the Orange County Wine Company, passing to the rear of the building, where he remained for a few minutes, after which he came out and hurried down the track toward East Newport.

Marshal Porter jumped into Roger Mill's automobile, after telephoning to Balboa to prevent the man from crossing the bay. Mr. Mills put on considerable speed and the machine overtook the man at Ninth street. He was seen to throw something away, but when asked what it was claimed that he did not even know what he was being arrested for.

After Elliott had been taken to Newport and lodged in the city jail, Mr. Porter received a telephone message from East Newport, saying that two girls who had been bathing in the bay had found the watch where Elliott was standing when arrested. About the same time Theodore Brethorst found Mrs. Mastin's purse, gold beads and pin in the flush tank of the toilet back of the Orange County Wine Company.

On being taken to the county jail in Santa Ana, Elliott told Mr. Porter that he was on the porch of the hotel when he saw a man run out of Mrs. Mastin's room and beg him to take the money and jewelry and hide it for him. He said that nothing on earth could get him to divulge the name of this man, as he was engaged to marry his sister.

Two Georgia Women Who Have Strangely Disappeared

Few cases have aroused such interest throughout the south as that of the Nelms sisters, who disappeared in June from their home in Atlanta. The police of many cities have been asked to look for them, and they were believed to have been located a few days ago near Gulfport, Miss. However, they disappeared.

Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis, the mother of the bright boy shown in the illustration with her, left home in June. She got a divorce in Nevada. Soon afterward the sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms, a bright girl of twenty-five, who had established a good real estate business in Atlanta, left home.

Later a letter purporting to have been written by Mrs. Dennis to her mother in Atlanta, saying she had killed Beatrice and was looking for her brother to kill him, too, whereupon she would commit suicide, was received. The mother, of course, was distracted.

Then came the story that Mrs. Dennis was on her way to Texas to meet Victor Innis, once assistant United States attorney for Nevada, but now in Portland, Ore., to marry him. He had acted for her in her divorce proceedings in Nevada. Their last appearance was near Gulfport.

LA HABRA SHIPS FIFTEEN CARS WEEK

LA HABRA, July 28.—La Habra Citrus Association is sending out lemons at the rate of three cars a week, Valencia oranges at the rate of seven to twelve cars a week. The average price of lemons is $3.50 to $4 a box, the average price for oranges is $1.75 to $2.25 a box. Both prices are f. o. b. La Habra.

FIRE IN FOOTHILLS BEYOND THE RANGE

Yesterday dense smoke rolling up from beyond Old Saddleback had a number of people interested in the Santa Ana range wondering what was going to happen. The smoke was first sighted by Ray Adkinson, who is the forest service lookout on top of Santiago Peak, and was reported by him by telephone to Forest Ranger Stephenson at El Toro. The fire was in the foothills near Elsinore, and while it was big for a time the blaze soon went down.

WOMAN SAYS THIS COUNTY IS PARADISE

McDannald Tells of Impression Made Upon a Michigan Couple

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Los Angeles, July 25.—At the breakfast table at the Rosslyn Hotel I met Mr. Frank Wickham and family, recently from Flint, Mich. Mr. Wickham is a well-to-do farmer from the lake region, and knows land, as I know climate, but having been forewarned, was somewhat skeptical of the stories he has heard. No real Missouri blood courses through his arteries, and yet a grandiose, several generations remote, once climbed to the summit of the Ozarks and looked over.

For the sake of convenience the Michigan man shipped a handsome home state car along, and has spent several months in the valley counties, but found nothing to his liking and had about concluded to wend his way back to the old home under the shadows of the elms, when I induced him to look over some "Real" country in the fertile county of Orange. We left the Angel City at 11:20 a. m., arrived on the return trip at 7:10 p. m., having covered 141 miles. We drove through every important section of the county from the oil wells to the sea, from the bean fields on the east, to the chili pepper district on the west, and I am going to let him tell you what the result has been.

"I never expected to find any place like this on earth. I supposed this was reserved for the Angels, where mortal man was not allowed to tread. Just as soon as I can convert my 320-acre farm in Michigan into coin of legal value it is going into a home in Orange county, the beauty spot of Uncle's Domain."

The lady was equally enthusiastic. Overlooking the valley from one particular eminence, she said:

"I have had many dream pictures of Paradise, but this is the first wide-awake view I have had of it."

We drove down to the peat lands and I showed them H. Larter's corn and potato field, both growing on the same land—potatoes yielding nearly 250 cents to the acre, and corn stalks half matured, standing twelve to fourteen feet high with a promise of two and three ears to the stalk. There I tallied another score, for the Michigan man, and the Michigan woman both vowed there was no other place under the starry dome where two such crops grew in perfect harmony, and in such abundance.

As I hurried away to catch a late car home, Mr. Wickham detained me long enough to describe the kind of a forty-acre home he wants in our county, and said: "I am going to have a home there if I have to steal it in the stillly moonlight."

Los Angeles Victor In Gas Controversy

(From the Los Angeles Financial News)

The Southern California Gas Company has been ordered by the State Railroad Commission to supply natural gas to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Economic Gas Company, within 24 hours after demand, under the terms of existing contracts or such modification as may be made at the rate established by the commission. The order is contained in an opinion handed down this week. In this opinion the commission defined the duties of the Southern California Gas Company thus:

"There is no question that Southern California Gas Company is a public utility or that it has held itself out as willing to sell natural gas to any one who would buy it at the established rates. The company filed with this commission its contract for the sale of natural gas to a number of other gas companies and asked for and received a modification of this commission's order establishing the rate at which the company might sell its commodity at the West Glendale terminus of the Midway pipe line.

"The company has held itself out as ready and willing to supply natural gas to Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and Economic Gas Company, as well as other gas companies not involved in this case, and it is the company's duty as a public utility to continue that service, unless some compelling reason to the contrary is shown.

"The only defense stated at the hearing was that the city of Los Angeles had established a rate for natural gas and 'mixed gas' so low as to be confiscatory. This defense, while bearing on the service of the company to its customers in Los Angeles, does not in the slightest degree apply to the company's service to Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and Economic Gas Company. This service has been rendered at a point outside the limits of Los Angeles and at a rate established by the commission and not by the city of Los Angeles.

"The remarkable spectacle is presented here of the Southern California Gas Company—a company heavily involved in the natural gas enterprise—refusing to sell natural gas to a company ready and anxious to buy at the rates established by this company, even though the company must be seriously crippled financially unless it sells a very much larger quantity of natural gas than the restricted amount which it is now delivering.

"The affiliated Midway Gas Company, the owner of the pipe line from the fields, must inevitably go bankrupt unless more natural gas is sold. This is clearly a case, if ever one has arisen, in which a utility's own financial condition—to say nothing of its contract obligations—should have led it to perform its legal duty as a public utility.

"The delivery of natural gas in Los Angeles is a matter of a distinct public benefit, due to the superior quality of the gas. The men who put their brains and their money into this enterprise, and who in doing so have taken the risks far out of the ordinary, deserve well of Los Angeles. This is clearly a case of which the public interest, the utility's contract duty, the utility's legal duty as a utility, and the utility's own financial welfare all concur in the same conclusion."

The rate which the State Railroad Commission fixed as the wholesale price for natural gas is 14 cents per thousand cubic feet. The retail rate fixed by Los Angeles City Council for natural gas is 40 cents per thousand cubic feet and 68 cents for manufactured gas. The rate for natural gas was objected to by the gas companies who declared it to be confiscatory. The city appealed to the Railroad Commission and the decision is in favor of the city.

City Attorney Albert Lee Stephens in his report to the City Council on the decision points out the following from the opinion, which he considers of particular importance, viz: "First. The commission's expression as to its jurisdictional limitations.

"Second. The clear expression that a corporation holding itself out as a public utility corporation must serve those who offer to buy unless extraordinary circumstances intervene.

"Third. The comment of the Commission on the unexplained conduct of the Southern California Gas Company in capping the southerly terminal of its pipe line and while engaged in a very large natural gas enterprise, refusing to sell natural gas to a company that was ready, willing and able to pay for it.

"Fourth. The conclusion of the Commission that its order that gas be delivered to the Economic Gas Company would practically have the effect of ordering each company to supply natural gas within the city because the superior quality of natural gas over manufactured gas would drive competing companies to its service."

are not grown in other counties of the southern belt, but there are none so perfect in shape and size.

Mr. Brown called in to see me the other day and to tell me how well he liked his newly acquired Orange county home. Three or four months ago the gentleman followed me out of the lecture room seriously impressed. I piloted him over the county, and the purchase of a fifteen-acre tract near Orange is the fruit of the acquaintance bore.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

Los Angeles Produce Market
Strong things were weak on the market yesterday morning when a decline of 2 cents was announced on garlic, and about 25 cents was chopped off the onion quotations; Silver skins of the best quality selling at $2, and yellow onions moving from $2.35 to $2.50 per hundred. Receipts of northern onions and garlic have been the principal cause of the decline. There were no changes in dried chile and peppers, but the fresh vegetable is selling at a slight decline. Chile peppers of pretty fair quality are down as low as 4 cents, while bell peppers are down as low as 7 cents on good stock. Receipts of onions were 300 sacks.

The local market on eggs hung at 30 cents a dozen, while in the north sales were reported at 29. Trading was not heavy, and receipts were only 212 cases. Eastern receipts were considerably larger than this.

ORDINANCE NO. 118

An Ordinance Amending Ordinance No. 113 of the County of Orange

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California, do ordain as follows:

Section 1.
Section Seventeen of Ordinance 113 of the County of Orange is hereby amended to read as follows:

NEBRASKA HAS 4 WARM SPOTS TODAY

Two Warring G. O. P. Factions,
Bull Moosers and Democrats
Hold Conventions

LINCOLN, Neb., July 28.—With strong possibilities of bitter fights in the Republican and Democratic gatherings, the state conventions of all political parties are being held in Nebraska today as required by law. The conventions, under the primary law, are merely for the purpose of drafting the party platforms, no candidates being named.

The Republican convention is being held here. The party in Nebraska has been split between the Taft and anti-Taft factions. There are about twenty counties in the state which still have two Republican county committees, and there are two so-called Republican state committees, both of which signed the call for today's convention. The problem today is to keep these two factions from warring. Woman suffrage will probably be endorsed by the Republicans and all other conventions except the Democratic, which is expected to remain silent on the votes-for-women issue.

The Democratic convention is being held at Columbus. There the fight, if it breaks beyond the control of those who declare party success demands party harmony will be between the Bryan and anti-Bryan factions. There has been much bitterness expressed recently by those who are opposed to the continued domination of the Democratic party in Nebraska by William J. and his brother, Charles W. Bryan.

The Bull Moosers convention is being held in Lincoln, and the Populist gathering is at Hastings.

A NOTED QUAKER MINISTER GOING TO SPEAK WEDNESDAY

Rev. William P. Pinkham, one of America's leading Quaker preachers, will preach tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 7:30 o'clock, at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Barton streets. Rev. Pinkham was for a number of years the leading professor in the Friends Bible Training School in Cleveland, Ohio, and the editor of the Evangelical Friend. He is now president of the training school for Christian Workers at Huntington Park, Cal. This "man of God" is both scholarly and deeply spiritual. His wife, who is also a strong spiritual character and leading worker in the church, will be present and have some part in the services.

THREE CARLOADS OF NUTS ARE SHIPPED: LAST OF THE CROP

Fullerton Daily Tribune: Three carloads of nuts remaining from the last season's crop were shipped Saturday from the packing house of the Fullerton-Piacentia Walnut Growers. They will go by way of the Panama Canal to the New York market. This lot brings a low price, as the quality is poor. They were left on hand when the season closed last fall, and have been kept in the packing house. Their shipment closes the year's business and clears the way for the new crop coming on.

SPO-PE, LIBERATED AFTER 33 YEARS, AND A GIRL FRIEND HE MADE IN WASHINGTON

This is old Spope, Blackfoot, who for thirty-three years has been imprisoned with the criminal insane at St. Elizabeths. He has just been pardoned by President Wilson and now he is on his way to the reservation of his tribe in North-western Montana, along the Canadian line. So overjoyed was Spope at his liberation—despite the fact there was a question if he was guilty of any crime—that he insisted on having his photograph taken with Evelyn Finch, daughter of the attorney of the Department of Justice, who worked to free him. More than thirty-five years ago a troop of United States cavalry killed his mother, his father, and a score of his people. Spope took a vow that he would kill a white man so the souls of his people could rest in peace in the happy hunting ground. There was nothing personal about it, but the carrying out of a sort of religious vow. When the Indian was taken to St. Elizabeths as being insane he refused to talk and tried to make himself understood by the sign language. That convinced the authorities he was insane.

About a year ago a party of Sioux visited the asylum and established the identity of Spope. His case was brought to the attention of the authorities and it was discovered that he was not insane. Indian Commissioner Cato Sells interested himself, with the result that President Wilson pardoned the old Indian.

WHAT IS DOING ABROAD

By Karl Von Wiegand, Berlin Correspondent of U. P.

VIENNA, July 27.—Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, merely a major of infantry in the Austrian army at present, who may be called to the throne any day, has been set at work to "rearrange" in order to fit himself in the shortest possible time to guide the destinies of twenty-six nationalities in the dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary.

Announcement of the promotion of Archduke Karl from major to "colonel" is expected daily. The young man who suddenly and unexpectedly moved to within perhaps a few months of the throne, through the murder of Archduke Ferdinand, has been given a staff of military instructors and officials to initiate him into the mysteries of statesmanship and government policies. He is burning the midnight oil and devoting himself to these studies in a way that is earning him much praise and admiration.

Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, who will be 27 years of age on August 17, is the big question mark not only to Austria-Hungary but also to Germany. It is considered certain Emperor Franz Joseph, who will be 84 on August 18, will not reign much longer and that the young archduke will soon be emperor.

He is practically an unknown quantity. Press and public have paid little attention to him. It was known that he was in line for the throne but none thought his turn would come under 15 to 25 years and in that time they would learn to know their future ruler. Archduke Karl is a likeable chap. He is not over-serious and of him as of the German Crown Prince, it has often been said that he was too light-hearted. He lacks the "stiffness" so characteristic of the Hapsburgs. Were Archduke Karl merely an ordinary citizen instead of an Emperor-to-be, of a powerful nation, moralists would perhaps say of him that he was not of "good family." His father, Archduke Otto, younger brother of the murdered Ferdinand had the reputation of being a "gay blade." He was raised so very religiously that when he was turned loose he started out to explore the "world of flesh" and did not cease until he died in 1906 from a lingering disease said to have been due to the life he led. Archduchess Maria, Archduke Karl's mother, is a sister of King Frederick August III, of Saxony, whose wife while still crown princess, ran away with a music teacher. When Archduke Otto died, the archduchess withdrew from the world of society and has devoted herself to religious work.

Archduke Karl first came to public notice when he broke his leg at the age of 17, while skating. Next he got eight days' room arrest for shooting near a big powder magazine, a thing sternly forbidden by military orders. Soon after becoming a lieutenant in the army, he was assigned to the garrison in Prague and attached to a regiment of dragoons. Karl was inclined to lead a merry life and this resulted in some of the officers who were boon companions of his, being transferred elsewhere. In Prague also he received the greater part of his education. In spite of his boyhood pranks and fondness for fun and frolic, his teachers spoke highly of his studiousness and ability to learn.

His fondness for operettas with pretty girls and music of the "Merry Widow" order, was very pronounced while at Prague. It is said that he attended no less than 50 performances of the operette "A Waltz Dream." Karl also was quite a "movie field." He had the keenest interest and delight in moving picture shows. Upon one occasion the "movie" theater in Payerbach-Reichenau flew his colors from the building in honor of his one hundredth visit within a comparatively short time.

Up to the present time Archduke Karl has been the most democratic of the Hapsburgs. Soon after his marriage to Princess Zita of Parma, he invited several Vienna newspapermen to his home in order to present his young wife to them. Karl is as popular with the people as his uncle Ferdinand was unpopular. Ferdinand, who was very religious, austere, cold and reserved, had little sympathy with the gay, lighthearted youngster who was to come after him. And Karl couldn't stand Ferdinand and his moralistic admonitions. Karl never visited Ferdinand's villa.

Princess Zita, the future empress, is the thirteenth of 20 children. Although she has an attractive face and pleasant manners, it is only by courtesy that she could be described as beautiful or queenly in bearing. The couple have two children.

How She Was Helped During
Change of Life by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 549 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 549 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ing completion today in the local arsenal.

Some months ago the cannon, which is the biggest specimen of ordnance in the world, was turned out at the Watervliet factory. Subsequent tests at the Sandy Hook proving station showed that its projectile could pierce 12-inch armor, set eleven miles away from the firing point.

The tremendous powers of the gun, destined to guard the Pacific entrance to the canal, are not easily appreciated. The cannon itself is fifty feet in length and weighs 142 tons. Its projectile, over six feet long, tips the scales at 2400 pounds. More than a quarter of a ton of powder is needed to discharge this destructive bullet. Although capable of carrying at least thirty-five miles, this iron-and-steel-boned agent of death can be "accurately bull's eyed" at 22 to 23 miles.

ALASKANS IMPORT REDLANDS GOATS FOR MILK SUPPLY

REDLANDS, July 28.—Swiss Toggenberg goats may in the future supply Alaska residents with milk. R. Winthrop Howland yesterday shipped from El Chivarr ranch, near Redlands, three fine Swiss Toggenberg goats which will be the nucleus of a herd of R. W. DeArmond of the department of justice in Alaska, if the experiment is a success.

Others are interested, and as goats are hardy and can be kept at small expense as compared with cows, it is probable that big shipments will be made next season to Alaska for the starting of several herds.

Rancho El Chivarr has the largest Swiss Toggenberg goat herd in America.
